What We By Hibe Donnet

What is an education? . . . What does it mean to educate another? . . . to educate a girl? . . . a woman? . . . a man . . .? Is it necessary? Is it cruel? Does it hurt? Does it feel good? Should it be done in darkness? . . . in light? . . . in silence? . . . Does it take great strength and courage or does cowardice and weakness suffice? What is the meaning of teacher? Is a teacher a parent, a judge, an actor, a fool, a healer, a policeman, a hanged man? Who are the students? Are they those who are in school or those who seek? Those who hunger and thirst after meaningfulness or those who are satisfied to be told what to do? When the questions are gone, education is gone.

She was 18 years of age and this was a halfway house of sorts.....

You know, a place where you could stop off four years and say, "I have been to Cawlege." But then she was two years into 20 and she began asking questions and finding out this and finding out that.

And then one day Someone asked her a question and she was gratified to be able to answer promptly and did.

She said,

"I don't know."
